For Immediate Release

CRG Network to Host Special Presentation on Secret John Doe Investigations by former Waukesha County District Attorney Paul Bucher

CRG Network will host a special presentation and training seminar on the application of the secret John Doe investigation process that has been the focus of recent local and statewide news stories. The session will be led by attorney Paul Bucher who has extensive knowledge of and experience with John Doe investigations during his tenure as the Waukesha County District Attorney. The special session will be held:

Saturday, April 21st
10:00AM to 12:30PM

Serb Memorial Hall
5101 W. Oklahoma Ave
Milwaukee, WI 53219

The cost will be $10.00 per person with advance registration or $20.00 without. Advance registration requires calling or texting your name to CRG Network at 414-801-0800 or sending it via e-mail to crg@crgnetwork.com. No advance payment is required as all payments will be made at the door. A limited number of complimentary admissions based on need have been made available by a concerned donor.

CRG Network spokesperson Chris Kliesmet added, "For decades the somewhat unusual and secretive John Doe process has been hidden from the public. More recently, insinuations of bias and prosecutorial abuse have been alleged. We are pleased to have a highly-qualified expert such as attorney Bucher on hand to help citizens understand the process so they are better equipped to judge whether public prosecutors and the courts are operating in a fair and unbiased manner. Perhaps equally interesting is information revealing that the John Doe process is not limited solely to prosecutors and how average citizens are able to bypass the district attorney and directly request John Doe investigations."
